

YOUTHS WILL BE CALLED TO COLORS FIRST

Crowder Announces Plan for Drafting Fighters

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Youths of 19 and 20 years and men between the ages of 32 and 36, inclusive, who register Thursday, will first be called to the colors, Provost Marshal General Crowder announced today and until the supply of available fighting material in their ranks has been exhausted older men will not be inducted into service. Questionnaires will go out first to registrants of these ages and local boards have been ordered to proceed with their speedy classification so that some of them may be called in October. Pointing out that in classifying men above the ages of 31 the army draft would be attacking the country's economic life and entering an unexplored field, General Crowder in a public statement to all employers and industrial representatives he sought their aid in applying the plan of industrial deferments so that the "maintenance of the military establishment or of the national interest during the emergency" may not be interfered with.

Some Estimates.
Before issuing his appeal, General Crowder had again pointed out that on estimates of reports to draw from the classes above 31 only 60,000 men, physically fit for military service and not entitled to deferred classification on the grounds of dependency or occupation. He also said that men of 19 or 20 called were entitled to admission to the students' training corps at the 400 secondary schools with which the war department has made contracts but added that this corps would number 150,000 men, while more than 3,000,000 youths below 21 will register Thursday. Methods of selecting those to be inducted into military service and educational training corps, he said, were the concern of other branches of the administration.

"Someone must indicate that the individual case is one which should arrest the special attention of the boards in respect to the registrant's occupational status," said General Crowder. "The boards do not possess a superhuman omniscience. Nor are they permitted by circumstances to devote unlimited time to the search of questionnaires for possible grounds of claim. In 1917 out of more than 3,000,000 registrants called, only 140,000 filed occupational claims or 4.7 per cent, thus 95 per cent of all registrants raised no question of such deferment. "The boards will do all that they possibly can on their own initiative to reach a just decision by a complete examination of the questionnaires even where no claim is expressly made. "Nevertheless the boards will welcome and will need all the aid that can be furnished by the indication of a claim made for deferment.

"But who is to make that claim? Ordinarily the registrant will indicate the claim on his questionnaire. But if thru mistaken chivalry, he should fail to do so another may make it for him. In industry, agriculture or other occupation, this other person will naturally be the employer. The employer in this case represents the nation, the national interest."

PARTIAL EXEMPTION ON LIBERTY BONDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Partial exemption of income on liberty bonds from surtaxes was recommended today by Secretary McAdoo as a necessary means of stabilizing the market price of these bonds without raising the interest rate of them. In a letter to Chairman Kitchin of the house ways and means committee Mr. McAdoo urged that congress act on this suggestion before the opening of the fourth liberty loan campaign on September 28th, and to make the exemption applicable to a limited amount of bonds of the second and third loans and to converted bonds of the first loans.

PUBLIC MUST CONSERVE COAL

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 10.—Failure to produce and conserve the coal necessary for the manufacture of vast quantities of munitions needed by General Pershing's army in the final drive against the German forces will mean the sacrifice of thousands of American youths on the field of battle, P. B. Noyes, director of conservation of the fuel administration said in an address here tonight.

In such an emergency, with success depending upon steel and steel depending upon coal, Mr. Noyes said he was confident no man would spare himself either labor to save the last pound of waste or any sacrifice involved in devoting the fuel and material vitally essential in carrying out the army program overseas.

U. S. Steamship Torpedoed and Sunk by U-Boat

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The American Steamship Dora, formerly under the Austrian flag, was torpedoed and sunk on September 4, approximately 400 miles off France as the result of an attack on a cargo convoy. The crew was saved.

The steamship was struck at 6:20 o'clock in the morning. A calm sea enabled all the crew of 85 to escape. They were picked up by destroyers.

The submarine daringly took up a position about 150 yards from the starboard side of the convoy column and about an equal distance from the nearest destroyer. The Dora, which was heading a column of three vessels, the lookout reported seeing a periscope just after the wake of the torpedo was discovered but nothing more was seen of the submarine. The torpedo struck aft throwing the cargo of army supplies as high as the mast tops, but only one member of the crew was hurt. The escorting ships immediately dropped numerous depth charges which it was believed the torpedo came from.

AIRPLANE MAIL SERVICE SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The feasibility of the government's plan to transport mail by airplane and make final delivery of letters between New York and Chicago, within a maximum time of ten hours, has been demonstrated in the opinion of postal officials and officers of the Aero Club of America.

This opinion was expressed today when Max Miller, arriving here this afternoon from Chicago by way of Cleveland, Ohio and Lockhaven, Pa.

Under the government's plans for a regular airport between New York and Chicago, beginning October 1, mail will be carried in relays, three aviators carrying the mail instead of one.

During the fighting incidental to these operations we took thirty prisoners and a number of machine guns and trench mortars."

GUNFIRE FROM U. S. STEAMER DESTROYS U-BOAT

Undersea Vessel Sunk Off Atlantic Coast Sept. 3rd

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Destruction of an enemy submarine Sept. 3, off the Atlantic Coast by gunfire from the American Steamer Frank H. Buck was reported to the navy department today by the master of the steamer. He said that two shots were observed to hit the submersible which sank after a terrific explosion.

The submarine the captain said opened fire on the steamer at a range of 14,000 yards but when it found after an interchange of three score shots that it was out ranged by the American's guns it tried to draw off. It was then that the ship put in the two shots which the captain believes destroyed the enemy.

The captain's narrative, as summarized in the report to the department follows:

"On September 3rd, at 8:25 a. m., an enemy submarine was sighted on the star board beam at 14,000 yards. The submarine opened fire with two six inch guns. Our shots were very close to the submarine and the submarine shrapnel were bursting very close to us, some of the pieces falling upon our deck and causing the significant of the course frequently which seemed to upset the submarine's aim and range. As soon as the submarine saw our range was equal to hers she hauled away from us. Up to that time she had been closing in on us.

"Before the submarine could get out of range, our 25th shot hit her stern. The 25th shot hit her just forward of the conning tower, near and under the water line. The bow immediately shot up into the air very suddenly then settled and went down out of sight, the stern making a half turn forward toward us and then disappeared.

"Upon shots striking the submarine we saw very closely a terrific explosion and black smoke which enveloped the submarine. I am positive that we destroyed her as she sank almost instantly after the shot struck her.

The engagement lasted 25 minutes. Some of the fragments of the submarine fell on our decks and were picked up by the quartermaster and chief gunner's mate.

"The submarine was about 300 feet long, of the early type of German submarines with high bow and had two six inch guns close to the conning tower fore and aft. She used about sixty shots altogether. She was camouflaged and flew no flags."

The navy department announced that the captain of the Buck highly commended the efficiency and conduct of Chief Gunners Joseph Steffens and the entire armed guard under command.

ROBBERS ATTEMPT TO BLOW SAFE FAILS

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 10.—A small bottle of formaldehyde accidentally placed in the vault of the Farmers' State Bank at Buckingham, saved thousands of dollars early this morning when bandits attempted to reach the safe within the vault. The robbers blew open the door of the outer vault, the force of the explosion bursting the bottle of formaldehyde. The fumes which resulted were so intense that the robbers were unable to get to the safe.

Twenty two safety deposit boxes were broken into and the robbers escaped with $50 in nickels and pennies and $50 worth of war savings stamps. A large number of liberty bonds were untouched.

STORY OF FIRST U. S. SHOT FIRED IN FRANCE

Shell Sent into German Lines by Sergeant Alex Arch of South Bend, Ind.—Soldier Still Well and Fighting Hun.

(By the Associated Press)

New York, Sept. 10.—The story of the first shot fired by the American Expeditionary Force in the war with Germany—a shell sent screeching into the German lines about as dawn was breaking on October 23rd, 1917—is contained in a letter sent to the Associated Press by the commander of the Indiana Battery which performed this important action in American history. Alex Arch of South Bend, Ind., a sergeant in this unit—Battery C of the Sixth Field Artillery—is the veteran soldier, who, according to this letter yanked the lanyard of the pioneer gun to speak for the United States on the soil of France.

News paper correspondents who inspected the gun on the day it was fired were permitted at the time to say in their cablegrams only that this sergeant was from South Bend. The honor of firing this first shot had been claimed by another member of the same battery. Captain Idus R. McLendon in command of Battery C in writing of this event expresses his conviction that the people of the United States should have available an authoritative account both of the significance of the shell and because in his opinion credit should go to the man to whom the officers of Battery C say it is due.

"Sergeant Alex Arch of South Bend, Ind., is the man who pulled the lanyard and sent the first American shot into the hostile lines on the morning of October 23rd, 1917, at five minutes past six," Captain McLendon said. "I was present all during the firing of that shot."

"In the gun drill of the 75th field piece the gunner, a corporal says the gun for direction only: cannoner No. 1 sets off the range and, at the command of the chief of section fires the piece. The chief of section merely repeats the command 'fire' which is ordinarily given by the lieutenant who acts as battery officer."

"On this particular morning Arch had a special gun crew made up of other sergeants who were in command of gun sections in the battery, all of whom were anxious to have a hand in the job. Arch himself set off the range and acted as No. 1 pulling the lanyard at my command 'fire'."

Twenty four shots were fired that morning Captain McLendon continued, and added: "The firing of the first shot was an event which our division commander, General—considered worthy of special mention and he ordered that the shell cases of the first eight shots sent to his headquarters with a view to their preservation. Later the commander-in-chief ordered the gun which fired the first shot to be withdrawn from service and I understand that it has been or will be sent to the states to be kept as a relic of the great war."

"The question of who fired this shot is not a personal affair at all. It is something which concerns the honor of the Battery and the Sixth Field Artillery and the First Field Artillery brigade as a whole. The men of this brigade are proud of having been the first to fight. And we have not stopped fighting and do not expect to stop until the last shot of the war is fired."

Regarding Arch, Captain McLendon's letter dated Aug. 12, says that he "is still living and fighting the Hun, and his fellow soldiers who helped him in firing the first shot are still living and fighting, and the old battery is still in the game and going strong."

Debate Continues On War Revenue Bill in the House

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Debate on the war revenue bill continued in the house today with members of the ways and means committee delivering prepared speeches in which they criticized some features of the measure but promised to vote for it on final passage and predicted for the patriotic support of the country. Leaders now plan to end general discussion Thursday with a view to taking up the bill Friday under a five minute debate rule for consideration of amendments. In the meantime, the ways and means committee will consider special amendments to facilitate the sale of liberty bonds, which were suggested today by the treasury department.

Principal speakers in the debate today were Representative Hull of Tennessee, Democrat, author of the present income tax law, Longworth of Ohio, and Green of Iowa, Republican members of the ways and means committee. Representative Caraway of Arkansas, Democrat, attacked the proposal made by some members in debate that a tax be placed on cotton. He said no protest had come from cotton growers but declared that such legislation would be outrageous. The south, he said, now is bearing its share of the war cost.

At the senate finance committee hearing on the bill today, witnesses and senators criticized the excess profits rates. Effect of prohibition legislation on the nation's revenue also was brought up.

Representative Hull told the house today that the nation's tax budget after the war will be $4,000,000,000 annually and warned that little of this can be made up by tariff rate increases as suggested by some members. He urged consumption levies on sugar, coffee, tea, silk and rubber.

The citations were received today at the war department as a section of the official communique for Tuesday. Among the men decorated is Lieutenant Allen A. Tukey, Des Moines, Iowa.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 10.—An exchange of views between the Central Powers and the ententes was tentatively suggested by Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister in an address to visiting German newspaper men according to a Vienna despatch today.

Such a discussion said the foreign minister need not take the form of peace negotiations but would have as its purpose the consideration of all things which are keeping the belligerent powers apart.

HUN RESISTANCE STIFFENS ALONG BATTLE FRONT

Terrific Fire from the Enemy Encountered by Haig's Troops

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—The resistance from enemy rear guards has increased all along the line, especially in the center areas, where a much greater volume of machine gun and artillery fire is being encountered by the British troops have made further progress. Rain has fallen incessantly and the battle field in many places now is covered with soft mud, and the shell craters are filled with ooze which makes rapid progress difficult.

Generally the armies are still at pause and what forward movements have been carried out have been more in the nature of line straightening and for the suppressing of active German positions.

Epehy wood has been the scene of hard fighting. From a number of reliable sources it is learned that the enemy is evacuating the civilians from numerous villages and towns in his rear. Old men, women and children are being forced from their homes with only a handful of their possessions, their property is either being confiscated by the German authorities or being carried off by the troops. Prisoners who are in the immediate vicinity of an engagement on Aug. 22 say that an infantry regiment of a Bavarian division suddenly threw down their arms, declaring that they absolutely refused to fight for Prussia any longer.

German commanders now have suddenly come to realize that their system of defense with respect to depth is totally inadequate under the conditions encountered in continuous fighting. A captured seventeenth German army order says:

"A new outpost zone cannot be selected daily and the troops must hold the foremost line. The troops must understand this or they will retire against the wishes of the command and describe the ground which they have lost as an evacuated outpost zone. This cannot be permitted for tactical reasons and must not be allowed for moral reasons."

The most important news from the north today is direct corroboration of the fact that the Germans are working with all haste in the preparation of their new line east of the river Lys and that they are being reinforced with concrete machine gun nests in considerable numbers.

Three Lines of Defense.

Paris, Sept. 10.—(Havas)—There are three German lines of defense behind the Hindenburg line, the first closely paralleling it and the others providing for retreats along wide fronts, according to an outline of the German defense system printed by the Matin today.

The first line in the rear of the Hindenburg position, according to the newspaper starts from the south of Lille and parallels the Hindenburg line at an average of from three to six miles. The second comprises a line running from Lille to Metz, the intermediary points on which the newspaper does not indicate. This line would be about 180 miles long.

Finally the newspaper adds there is a fourth retreat line on which the Germans now are vigorously working. It runs from Valenciennes, 20 miles east of Douai in a southeasterly direction to Givet, on the Meuse at the Belgian border. The front thus indicated extends for about sixty miles.

FORCAST SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF GLASS

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—W. M. Nenan of Cleveland president of the National Window Glass Workers Association in an address here today predicted that the effect of the new army draft and the restrictions on fuel will cause a serious shortage of glass in this country in the near future. He said the supply of window glass will be most seriously affected.

GIVEN INSTRUCTIONS.

New York, Sept. 10.—Ten thousand volunteers were given instructions today for the work they are to do Thursday in assisting the members of the 139 draft boards in New York City in enrolling the men affected by the new selective service act. It is estimated that more than 900,000 men will register here.

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

(By the Associated Press)

The critical military position of the Germans from the region west of Cambrai southward to the St. Gobain massif and around this strong bastion eastward to the territory north and northeast of Soissons, continues to hold the eyes of the world.

For the moment the tactical maneuvers of the belligerents in Artois and Flanders as well as eastward of Soissons into Champagne, altho they still are of the greatest importance necessarily continue to take second place in interest to those sectors which are filled with momentous poise where a successful move by the allies may bring a quick change in the entire German battle front, or on the contrary, a determined stand by the enemy with the large reinforcements in man and gunpower he is known to have assembled, may result, for a time at least, in a stalemate in the game which is being played by the allies to crack the already demoralized German line.

The heavy rains of the past few days have turned lowlands throughout the fighting zone into quagmires but on those sectors of the high ground between Cambrai and Soissons the storms have not kept the British and French armies from moving forward. Nor have they served to lessen the strength of the enemy's resistance.

Near Gouzeaucourt and Havrincourt the British have pressed on a little farther toward Cambrai, in the former region after having put down counter-attacks by the Germans who endeavored to reclaim the high ground won by the British in Sunday's fighting. To the south the French from the district west of St. Quentin southward to the western side of the St. Gobain forest have pushed eastward toward the Oise river, which they are virtually upon all along this front with their flanks now resting dangerously near both St. Quentin and LaFere.

St. Quentin now stands only a little more than three miles away, while LaFere is so closely encircled from the west and south the French from the north that seemingly it soon must fall. The maneuvers of the French have added materially to their program of turning the St. Gobain forest from the west and also the capture of St. Quentin and the French and Americans who are fighting shoulder to shoulder northeast of Soissons continue to carry out successfully a co-related movement having in view the conquest of the St. Gobain forest in view and also the outflanking of the German positions to the east. In their latest endeavors the Franco-American forces have made some slight progress in the face of the extremely stubborn resistance of the enemy. Likewise in the sector of Soissons the French and Americans have gained additional ground between the Vesle and Aisne rivers.

Far to the north the British are so nearly upon Armentieres that few more strides forward seemingly will place them in a position to make the one time cotton spinning center theirs for the asking. LaBasse also daily is being brought nearer in this general movement which apparently has as its ultimate objective the recapture of Lille and possibly the eventual falling back of the German line northward in Belgium. The British air forces continue to harass the Germans in the coastal region of Belgium, having again intensively bombed enemy military and submarine bases at Ostend, Bruges and Blankenberge.

Field Marshal Haig is highly optimistic of ultimate victory for the entente. In an order of the day he declared that the dark days have passed, never to return again. He says that in four weeks the British troops have made 75,000 German prisoners and taken 750 of their guns.

Meantime peace feelers again have been sent broadcast by officials and men prominent in the high political councils of the central powers. The essence of their peace proposals is to gain a military victory. Added to the troubles of the enemy powers, due to the military defeats they have suffered and reported internal dissension, comes the rumor that the jealousy of Bulgaria and Turkey over the division of the spoils of war is causing perturbations in Berlin causing the possibility of an open conflict.

BRITISH STILL PURSUING GERMANS

British Headquarters in France, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press).—The British front now is liquid in the literal sense of word. The British nevertheless are pursuing the Germans across fairly high rolling country in most places and altho the terrifically flooded area south of the Scarpe and the southern fringe of the old Somme battlefield are so bad as to be largely impassable.

AVIATORS KILLED

Fort Worth Tex., Sept. 10.—Lieutenant A. B. Stephenson of Bristol Conn. and W. D. Keeling of Dallas Texas were killed this morning when their airplane fell north of Fort Worth. Both were attached to Caruthers Field and were known as daring fliers.

MUCH INTEREST IN SENATORIAL FIGHT TODAY

Campaign Has Turned On the Loyalty Issue

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Principal interest in the state primary election in Illinois tomorrow centers in the three-cornered contest between Congressman Medill McCormick, Congressman George E. Foss and Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago for the Republican nomination for United States senator. The campaign has turned on the loyalty issue. Congressmen McCormick and Foss have appealed to the voters for the city council to hold a special election. Mayor Thompson's opponents charged him with being a pro-German sympathizer, with having opposed this country's entering the war, with opposition to the passage of the selective draft law and the sending of American troops to France, with failing to use his official position to support the government in the conduct of the war and with hesitancy in authorizing liberty bond salesmen to canvass the city hall. He was charged with refusing to extend an official invitation to Mayor Joffe to visit Chicago which made it necessary for the city council to hold a special meeting to invite the distinguished Frenchman to the city. His opponents said he made the excuse that Chicago was the sixth German city in the world and that he feared offending a large part of the city's foreign born population.

Pledge Cards a Feature.

The mayor replied that he did issue the invitation when the city council gave him authority. He said he questioned his own legal right to issue the invitation. Mayor Thompson used "America first" as his campaign slogan and professed his loyalty. He bid for the German and labor vote. He spoke against war profiteering and urged the conscription of wealth to win the war. A feature of his campaign was the circulation of personal pledge cards which he declares nearly 200,000 voters signed. His managers are basing their hopes for success on the splitting of the opposition vote between McCormick and Foss.

Friends of Thompson expect aim to carry Chicago by a sufficient margin to make up for any possible deficit in the downstate vote. Congressman McCormick has the support of the regular organization in Chicago and nearly every county in the state and is confident of success. During the campaign Mayor Thompson filed the suits against Chicago newspapers for more than a million dollars.

On the Democratic side Senator James Hamilton Lewis probably will be re-nominated practically without opposition. In the ninth congressional district Fletcher Dobyne is contesting the re-nomination of Congressman Fred Britten, who is accused by his enemies of disloyalty.

Three States in Cook County.

In Cook county there are three full county states on the Republican side put up by the factions led by Attorney General Brundage, C. S. Deenen and Mayor Thompson, while on the Democratic side a bitter fight is on between the factions led by Roger J. Sullivan and former Governor J. F. Dunne and State's Attorney Hoyne.

Downstate the principal congressional contest is in the fifteenth, the Galesburg district, where Congressman Edward J. King is contesting the nomination on the Republican ticket with Charles F. Hurlburt, former state senator.

Republican Congressmen I. C. Copely, William B. McKinley, John C. McKenzie, Joseph G. Cannon, William J. Graham, are unopposed in their own party and no Democrat has entered the race in their districts.

RICHARD YATES CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE.

Republican voters of Morgan county will have an opportunity today to vote for Richard Yates as a candidate for Congressman-at-Large. There probably has been no candidate in recent years whose announcement has aroused as much enthusiasm as that of Richard Yates.

Republican editors throughout the entire state have written editorials commending his candidacy. Indications point to his nomination at the primaries and his subsequent election in November.

It is fitting that men of the caliber of Richard Yates should aspire to office at this time. Son of the famous war governor, the younger Yates has many of the sterling qualities of his father.

He is one hundred per cent American and his talents and time have been given to aid in prosecution of the war. Mr. Yates has a wide and comprehensive grasp of world events. His knowledge of public affairs will fit him for a seat in congress and voters of Illinois may rest assured that he will do honor to the state during his term of office. A vote for Richard Yates is a vote for a man who will give of his best efforts to aid the nation in the battle for world democracy.

Four Republican members of Congress have resigned their seats to enter the military service, and one of them has given up his life for the nation.—Representative Augustus P. Gardner, at whom the Democrats in Congress grinned when President Wilson read his message about the over-anxious souls who feared war and demanded preparedness for it. Four Democratic members of Congress have resigned, but none to enter the military service; all to accept better paid civil positions.

Slackers resent being rounded up. No man who has registered or has a legitimate reason for not registering need fear the jail.

The September cotton crop report is far below expectation, being over four million bales less than the forecast.

The Hindenburg line seems a very loose one just now, when the Allies smash thru it every day.

Socialists believe in Democracy when Democracy works their way—otherwise they are quite ready to overthrow it and establish despotism, as in Russia.

The very few who used their autos last Sunday may be bold enough to try it again next Sunday. Several numbers were taken by parties interested, but publicists have been withheld in hope they may see their error and repent. An auto user who does not willingly give up pleasure riding at request of his government comes far from being a true American.

Andrew Carnegie has given away $25 millions of dollars, including 60 millions to 2,500 libraries; 125 millions for the Carnegie Corporation; 17 millions for colleges; 6 millions for church organs; 22 millions for the Carnegie Institution of Washington; 16 millions for the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching; 13 millions to the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh; 10 millions for the Carnegie Institute of Technology; 10 millions for hero funds; 10 millions for international peace; 4 millions for steel workers' pensions; 2 millions for the Church Peace Union; and 1 million for the Peace Palace at The Hague.

UNIFORMS FROM Q. M.

Republican Representative Carl E. Mapes of Michigan, has taken a deep interest in the legislation several times passed by the Senate, permitting officers to purchase their uniforms thru the office of the Quartermaster General at cost. The provisions appear again as an amendment to the new draft bill. Before that measure went to conference Mr. Mapes called the attention of the conferees particularly to the paragraph, and urged that they permit the Senate language to remain in the bill. With a slight change that was done, and hereafter officers will be able to obtain their uniforms from the War Department under certain regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

The effort to separate Liberty Bond holders not familiar with stock and bond values from their Liberty Bonds has taken a new turn. The manipulators instead of offering to buy the bonds at inadequate prices offer in exchange for them the stocks and bonds of various wildcat corporations, whose face value is large but whose actual value is little or nothing.

The Treasury Department has determined that it will not provide any plan for disposing of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds on the installment plan, other than the usual plan of previous loans. The plan as heretofore, will consist of initial payment and three subsequent payments about one month apart.

CONVERSION OF

The privilege of conversion which arose in consequence of the issue of 4 per cent bonds of the Third Liberty Loan will expire on November 9 next and under existing law can not be extended or renewed. Delay in exercising the privilege will result in overburdening the banking institutions of the country and the Treasury Department by making it necessary to handle all conversions at the last moment and may result in many cases in the loss of the privilege of conversion altogether.

Holders of coupon bonds are strongly advised to exchange them for registered bonds in order to protect themselves against the risk of loss, theft, and destruction of their bonds.

The banks throughout the country, as a matter of patriotic service, will doubtless all assist bondholders in converting and registering their bonds.

AMERICA'S FUTURE.

America's future hangs suspended by the slender thread of ships now stretching across the Atlantic. The Allies have long borne the brunt of our battle. If we are to be the deciding factor in this fight, there must be munitions and food transported to the scene of conflict.

Men, munitions and food must go from here. There is an actual surplus of some foods in Australia, India and the Argentine, but to bring foods from those remote ports would require more shipping than we can spare.

That is why the enormous responsibility for feeding the Allies is largely ours. If instead of satisfying practically half their food needs, as was the case during the current year, we could send during the coming year their entire outside supply, it would mean the release of almost a million and a half tons of shipping. To do this would mean still more stringent saving. Last year our people voluntarily reduced their consumption about seven per cent. Even more may be demanded of us another year.

There is no time for such trifling as hard-and-fast food preferences. After the war is won the people of America may return to whatever fare they like best if they wish. But all that matters little now.

The loyal women of the country are studying food values, learning to cook new dishes and fighting waste. The loyal men of the country are learning to eat whatever is set before them, thinking but little of old preferences and caring less.

Men and women alike have but one goal; to get ships enough to send over men, munitions and food. Shipping and food are the dominant factors in America's prosecution of the war.

A ZOOLOGICAL TREATISE ON "THE YELLOW DOG."

What is "The Yellow Dog?"

He is a very peculiar animal. He is a camouflaged dachshund. He is changeable like a chameleon.

He is a low, white livered skunk.

He is a snake in the grass.

He is a vulture in human form. He carries a tale of woe.

He snaps at the American eagle. He would destroy the bluebird of happiness.

He lives on the bone of contention.

He is spotted with Kaiserism.

He would harass the English lion.

He spews on the lily of France and the chrysanthemum of Japan.

He has the fangs of a serpent. He has the hide of a rhinoceros.

His bite spreads the rabies of "kultur."

His mouth foams with Hun-batched propaganda.

He bites the hand that feeds him.

He is a zebra marked with the stripes of the Wilhelmstrasse.

He is a rat who with trouble arises seeks the nearest hole.

The Yellow Dog is a hound of hell.

He is a porcupine who shoots his quills of hate in all directions.

He is a parrot who jabbars only the doggerel of kultur taught by his master.

He is a barnacle who would lay the ship of state up for repairs.

He is a whale who spouts his emulsion of Teutonism.

He is an eel who with slimp slipperiness wiggles out of the clutches of the law.

He is an owl, who weigning wisdom, hoots at all things worth while.

He is a moth, dazzled by the flame of Prussianism, who stands ready to dash his foolish head against the wall.

He is a tick, who would make miserable the trusty oxen who are bearing the yoke of the war.

He is a wasp, who adding no sweetness to the world, stings his way thru life.

He is an ostrich who sticks his head in the sands of time, and thinks because he can not see the light of humanity that none can see his dastardly deeds.

The Yellow Dog is a cow who kicks over the bucket of milk of human kindness.

He is a bull maddened by the sight of red, white and blue.

He howls the hymn of hate night and day.

He is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

He wears the collar of the Hohenzollerns.

He is from the kennel of Kaiserism.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

September 11, 1862—Chicago Tribune states that a train of cars on the Illinois Central Railroad brought to that city from Cairo about one thousand bales of raw cotton, which, at present is worth upwards of one hundred thousand dollars. The cotton was destined for some eastern market.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

LEATH IS COMMON.

So many men are lying down, that one more death cuts little grass; we lose some bulwark of the town and hardly pause to say "Alas!" It is an awkward time to croak, while war is kicking up its din; no man can leave a trail of smoke, these death-struck days, by cashing in. Today we lost our next best prince, the owner of the Blue Front store; he's been our Big Man ever since he landed here, in '84. If he in times of peace had died, the village would have lost its breath, and groups of people would have cried, "You love a shining mark. O death!" And we'd have talked for days and weeks, about his merit or his flaw, and looked on men as dreary freaks who did not speak his name with awe. A silken banner we would fling hither, masted o'er the city bell, and we'd have hired a band to spring the justly famous march in "Saul." Ah, we, what is one merchant prince, when dead men strew the blood stained globe? Who can the proper grief evince, or paw around and tear his robe? In his deep grave we'll lay him down, with naught of pomp or circumstance and then we'll hustle back to town, to hear the latest news from France.

I would appreciate your vote for assessor and treasurer today.

Fred W. Wanless

Republican Candidate for Representative 45th Senatorial District Sangamon and Morgan Counties

Fred W. Wanless has made his announcement as a Republican candidate for Representative of the 45th Senatorial District, which comprises Sangamon and Morgan counties.

Many voters all over the District are enthusiastic for his nomination and election. They feel that Mr. Wanless would, on account of his varied occupations and experiences, represent more classes of people than would most anyone else.

Mr. Wanless was born in Riverton in 1881 and lives there now. He received his education in the public school at Riverton and at the N. W. College at Bushnell, Ill., and Macomb, Ill.

At the age of fourteen years he began work in the coal mines at Riverton where he worked for three years as a union coal miner. During the days when there was no work at the mine he attended school. The money he saved while in the mine he used to pay his expenses at college.

He began teaching when fifteen and taught in the schools of Riverton for five years, during the last three years of which he was principal of the schools which enrolled six hundred pupils and ten teachers. For one year he was vice president of the Sangamon County Teachers Association.

He went into the Real estate business in Springfield at the age of twenty-five where with his brother, Charles S. Wanless, he has been engaged for the past twelve years.

He also has large farming interests in Sangamon county.

Mr. Wanless has been successful in the things he has undertaken and should on that account be well able to represent LABOR, PROFESSIONAL and BUSINESS interests as well as MINING and Agricultural interests of this District.

He has served twelve years as a member of the Board of Education at Riverton and was elected by a very large majority in his township to the Board of Supervisors of Sangamon Co., where he served his county and township very ably.

Mr. Wanless should be nominated and elected to the office of Representative from this district.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

The Morgan county local board has just completed a summary of the June 5 and Aug. 24 registrations, showing the total number of registrants placed in the various sub-divisions of the several classes. This report was requested by Provost Marshal Crowder to be made not later than Sept. 12. It was the request of the provost marshal general that at least 50 per cent of the registrants be placed in Class 1 and it will be seen from the following figures that Morgan county has gone well above that standard. The following facts are shown by the report:

Class 1—
123 general service
15 limited service
8 remedial group

156
Class 2—
1 A
1 B
1 C
1 D
1 E

Class 3—
1 B
1 C
2 J
Class 4—
13 A
Class 5—
1 B
9 D
23 G

223
12 Class 1 referred to medical advisory board.
11 Not returned from district board.

246 Total June 5 and August 24 registration.

Preparations are moving forward rapidly at the local board office for next Thursday's registration. On that date all men between the ages of 18 and 45, inclusive, except those who are already registered, must appear at the place of registration in the precinct where they live and register. Tuesday the persons in the various precincts who are to have charge of the registration received instructions and took the oath which the law provides.

As the supplies for registration were received only a few days ago there are a few precincts in the county where the place of registration has not been designated. However, the list is almost complete and in practically every instance the customary voting place will be used by the registrants. At Litterberry, however, the Red Cross shop will be used as the place of registration and it is indeed a fitting selection.

In the list below the names of registrars in the various precincts are given. The figures quoted indicate an approximate number of registrations expected.

Altogether in the county there will probably be between 3,000 and 3,500 Morgan county men who will register at this time. Figured on the basis of the number of men already in the service from this county, to make the quota in the present army, local board officials believe that the county will be required to supply approximately 1,000 men in the course of the next eight months. The government has made it plain in the manpower bill that it is the purpose to take unmarried men above the age of 31 or such men without dependents before going to the second, third, and fourth classes of the men already registered. With the figures as quoted it now seems probable that next spring will find this county represented by about 2,200 men in the various branches of the army service.

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How to Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance.

Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder by over three million people annually, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.), New York, and The Westchester County Hospital, said: "Lack of iron in the blood is not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life."

It may also transform a beautiful, sweettempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all "run down," while at 50 or 60 with plenty of iron in your blood you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy."

The accompanying article of Dr. Sullivan should be carefully read by every

You say that you cannot keep money because it burns a hole in your pocket. When you have it, you spend it. But why allow your generosity to work you misery afterward? If you put your money in the bank, it will not burn a hole there. IT WILL INCREASE AND EARN FOR YOU.

THE PARK BOARD.

The park board met last night in regular routine session with all members present and transacted routine business, ordering all approved bills paid and attending to other matters.

The report of the chauntauqua season was made and it was gratifying that affairs had run more smoothly this year than ever before. The board had taken the utmost pains to see that everything devolving on it was attended to and the result was encouraging.

It was a matter of great satisfaction that a young man, seemingly capable and enthusiastic, Mr. Crandell, had been employed to adorn and beautify the unsightly depression south of the lake, plant lilies and other growth in it and fix it up generally. The young man also will aid the board in securing a large variety of home growths of various kinds and it is hoped will aid materially in adorning and beautifying the city's playground.

FUNERALS

Schanning.
Funeral services for Albert Schanning were held from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the Rev. A. A. Todd, pastor of the First Baptist church. The Rev. Todd read selections from the Bible and spoke words of comfort for those bereaved. Miss Franz sang "Nearer My to Thee" and "Abide With Me." The bearers were: J. J. Schanning, George Spears, George Schanning, Fred Konrad and Dickson. Burial was in the Jacksonville cemetery. There were many beautiful floral offerings and these were in charge of Phillip Todd, Mrs. Howard Schanning and Mrs. Decker.

Glenn.
The funeral of the late George Glenn was conducted at the home 1500 South Main street yesterday in the presence of a large company of sympathetic friends, including Matt Starr Post, G. A. R., of which Mr. Glenn was a valued member. The exercises were conducted by Rev. W. W. Theobald, pastor of the First Baptist church. He read suitable passages of scripture and paid a worthy tribute to the deceased, saying in part: "We have met to pay our tribute to the memory of Bro. Glenn. He lived a long and useful life. In the presence of his friends today we must all feel that it is only a life that has been worth while. It really counts. While we are here by Grace and not by works, we will be rewarded according to our works. It is a man's word that tells."

Paul challenges the record of a life—"I have fought a good fight." He was not as honored as the record of those years of service. So we can say for Brother Glenn, "He has fought a good fight," and that is the richest heritage that any man can leave behind him. The memory of a good and useful life.

"He fought a good fight"—as a soldier in the dark ages of the world war, when the life of the nation was at stake and the destiny of a race of slaves hung in the balance. He laid his young life on the altar of his country. For nearly four years he was a true soldier and made an honorable record.

We would not exalt war—for war is awful, but there are some things worse than war—true men will be faithful unto death in the resistance of evil. We are in the midst of a terrible war. But great principles are at stake and the Book says, "Be thou faithful unto death." So the war in which Brother Glenn fought.

"He fought a good fight" in a useful occupation. For forty years he was in the service of the government as a railway mail clerk—a hazardous calling—one of broken rest and constant danger. As he would bid the family "Goodbye" to go out on his run, there must have come the thought that he might not return alive.

"He fought the good fight" of faith. He was a Christian—ever standing for righteousness. For many years he has been a member of Brooklyn church. For many years he has been deprived of the privilege of the public worship but he did not lose his interest in the work of the church. Faithful unto the end. The faith which inspired and strengthened his life's service—sustained and comforted him in his weakness. He experienced the reality of God's promise: "Thou shalt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee." And he could say with the apostle as he approached the end: "O death, where is thy sting; O grave, where is thy victory."

And with Paul we may also say for him that he has "finished his course." He did not drop out of the way but he completed life's task. He has kept the faith and has been called to receive a good soldier's reward.

"Servant of God, well done; Thy glorious warfare's past; The battle's fought, the race is run And those are crowned at last." At the close of the services the remains were tenderly borne to Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being C. P. Ross, J. W. Boyd, J. G. Strawn, Ezra Scott, W. R. Hainline and W. J. Bourn. The honorary bearers were George Kirkman, and members of his company in the army; Capt. J. E. Wright, Messrs C. R. Taylor, John Brown, I. L. Jordan and William A. Kirby. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers and they were cared for by Mrs. W. B. Rogers, Mrs. G. H. Stacy and Mrs. E. G. Caldwell.

Douglas.
Funeral services for Thomas F. Douglas were held from the residence, 802 S. State street Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of Dr. F. M. Rule. The flowers were cared for by Lois Douglas, Virginia Bowen and Mrs. Lorton Tucker. Music was furnished by Miss Nellie Cunningham, Mrs. Kate Hollinger, T. H. Rapp and W. W. Gilliam. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being Lorton Tucker of Murrayville, William E. Douglas of Franklin, Charles Strawn of Alexandria, Newton Reid, Fred Jameson and T. B. Reeve of this city.

TWELVE PERSONS KILLED MANY ARE INJURED

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 10.
Twelve persons are reported killed and nearly a score are reported injured in a collision between Burlington train No. 43, west bound, with a work train near Birdsell Siding, seven miles east of here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Six dead have been partly identified.

Misunderstanding in the change of time between Mountain Time and Central Time is believed to be the cause of the wreck.

The work train had started out at Birdsell Siding, according to the reports thus far, the crew believing they had an hour to go to Alliance ahead of No. 43. Instead the passenger was already approaching around a bend in the track.

BERLIN-BOLSHEVIKI SIGN NEW TREATY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—A new treaty signed in Berlin between Bolsheviki controlled Russia and Germany provides that if the Russian fights against the Allies in the north, Germany will guarantee no attack against Russia by Finland.

Germany further guarantees that the coasting and fishing fleets of Russian and Finland now in Russian waters will not be molested. In return for this the Bolsheviki promises to pay Germany six million marks, of which one billion is to be in goods from the Ukraine, 2,500,000,000 in gold and paper and the remainder in German marks or Russian gold.

This information came to the state department today in a dispatch from Ambassador Francis at Archangel. It is assumed at the state department that this is one of the supplements to the Brest-Litovsk treaty.

It also indicates the determination of Germany to utilize the Bolsheviki to the utmost in the efforts to stem the activities of the Allied forces, the Czechs and the on Cossacks and other loyal Russians.

FORCE SICK GERMAN SOLDIERS TO FIGHT

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 10.—By the Associated Press.—A German soldier captured with others in a trench south of the Aisne was found to be suffering from a dis-eased condition of the ear and anaemia. He told the American medical officers that he had been forced to do front line duty notwithstanding his condition. Until a few weeks ago he had been employed in a non-combatant position owing to his affliction, but a recent order had caused him to be sent to duty on the western front. The prisoner said that he was in the first line in Flanders and opposite the Americans five days ago. He knew of cases where Germans not sick enough to go to hospitals were being used in the supply of other departments back of the lines and declared that in a number of instances soldiers suffering from serious illness had been sent to the front lines as he had been.

SEEK CHANGES IN REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Several changes to the new war revenue bill as drafted by the house ways and means committee were urged today by witnesses before the senate finance committee which is holding hearings on the measure. A request by James W. Kinnear of Pittsburgh, that gifts to charity by corporations be exempted from taxation on the same basis as gifts by individuals was opposed by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, a Republican, who said he had read recently that a corporation having a cost plus contract with the government had made a donation to the American Red Cross and charged it to expenses on which it received a percentage of profit.

Levi Mayer of Chicago, representing a distillers' organization, asked that a $5 a barrel tax proposed on whiskey held in bond after war time prohibition become effective be reduced. He said that under the prohibition law the holders of the whiskey could not sell it and that the tax was unreasonable.

J. Frank Ketter Honored On His 80th Birthday.

One of the honored citizens of this county is J. Frank Ketter, who lives in South Jacksonville a short distance from the place where the Vandalla road enters South Main street. His 80th birthday took place Monday, the 9th, and his wife and daughters concluded to give him a genuine surprise which they did, succeeding to perfection. When the noon hour approached he was astonished to see the guests come trooping in and they informed him that such an event as his 80th birthday was worth remembering. All brought a beautiful supply of good things and the day was passed most delightfully.

The Ketter family is one of the oldest and most respected of the county. They originally came from North Carolina and settled in the south part of the county, where they acquired large possessions. Frank was one of the most successful and accumulated a considerable amount of property, principally in land, which he cultivated in the best manner.

In 1890 Mr. Ketter gave up farming and removed to his present home which is one of the most attractive in South Jacksonville. For some years he was superintendent of Nichols park and gave a great deal of valuable time to the management and beautifying of that place working with disinterested zeal for the welfare of the public who are much indebted to him for his efforts.

His first wife was Miss Eliza Harney and she was the mother of four daughters. One is dead and the others are Mrs. Nettie Meggison and Mrs. C. C. Self of Woodson and Mrs. W. A. Crawley a few miles southeast of the city. He also has a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

His wife died some years ago and he again married, the second time Miss Minnie Anderson, a highly valued member of teaching force of the city schools of Jacksonville with whom he is happily spending the evening of his life. He is a member of Harmony lodge No. 3 A. F. and A. Masons, Jacksonville Chapter No. 3 Royal Arch Masons and Hospitalier Commandery Knights Templar.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawley and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crawley, Charles Rabjohn and Mrs. Gene Curtis of Jacksonville and vicinity. From Woodson came Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Self and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Self, Mrs. Nettie Meggison and daughter Claribel and his long time friend, Dr. G. W. Miller.

Miss Grace Hadden entertained a party of twelve friends last evening at her home on Caldwell street in honor of her sister, Miss Irene Hadden who leaves Thursday evening for Washington, D. C., where she has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of the Chief Engineers Department of the government. The evening was spent with music and at a late hour refreshments were served after which the guests departed for home wishing Miss Hadden many happy returns of the evening.

A SNEAK ON PARK STREET

When Misses Maude and Alice Smith, 138 Park street, arose yesterday morning and began looking about their home they discovered that some one had been in the house and made away with some money and jewelry. A lock had been chiseled out of a mahogany box and from that some valuables had been taken and beside a trunk was an iron bar which the burglar had used in trying to open the trunk but was not successful and had possibly been scared away. It is supposed he broke thru the screen wire on the back porch and climbed over a transom left open. There is no clue to the evil doer.

To the Men of Morgan County

I am a Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Assessor and Treasurer

I was born in Morgan County, have lived my entire life among you and have taken some part in affairs. I have sought at all times to identify myself with those things which make for community betterment and to so conduct myself that neither myself, my family or my friends need ever apologize for any act of mine. My life is an open book.

I have never before been a candidate for an important office and am not connected with or controlled by any clique or faction. If nominated and elected, I pledge myself to give Morgan County and her people a square deal and to serve them to the best of my ability without fear or favor. If elected, the public funds in my control will earn the best rates of interest obtainable and the income therefrom paid into the county treasury.

I respectfully solicit your support.

Yours truly,

Ball Players Threatened to Strike Before Commencement of Game—Members of Both Teams Claim They Are Not Getting A Fair Deal.

Boston, Sept. 10.—Big Jim Vaughn, the powerful lefthander pitcher of the Chicago Nationals kept the Boston Americans out of the world's championship today by winning the fifth game of the series, 3 to 0, after the contest had been delayed for an hour by an unprecedented strike of the players of both teams for a readjustment of their share of the proceeds.

When it seemed as if the players and the representatives of the National Commission, Garry Herrmann and Ban Johnson were hopelessly deadlocked and the curtailed baseball year would fizzle out in a strike, Harry Hooper, the Red Sox captain called the turn.

"We will play," he said, acting as spokesman for both teams. "not because we think we are getting a fair deal, because we are not. But we'll play for the sake of the game, for the sake of the public which has always given us its loyal support and for the sake of the wounded soldiers and sailors who are in the grandstand waiting for us."

Players Dissatisfied.

The players even before the start of the series had manifested dissatisfaction over the division of the money and this unrest had grown greatly as the games progressed, with small attendances on the average for the first four contests in which the players share the gate receipts. Both teams insisted that the winners had been guaranteed $2,000 a piece and the losers $1,400. But the sharp falling off in attendance had made it unlikely that the players would get anywhere near this sum according to their spokesman, Captain Hooper for the Red Sox and Leslie Mann for the Cubs.

For a while the representatives of both sides argued over the telephone but when time for practice found them still in their dressing room. The National Commission hurried out to Fenway Park to learn from the managements what the team members had decided to do.

"If the players intend to strike, making it necessary to call off the game it is only fair to the public for them to notify the management to stop the sale of tickets before any additional thousands come in," Chairman Herrmann of the commission said. No such announcement was made however. The players still tried to impress on the commission the justice of their cause while the commission pointed out that the matter was out of their hands, and that any change in the division of the money would have to be submitted to the club owners for ratification. Shortly before the time for calling the game Chairman Herrmann stated the position of the commission positively.

Rules Cannot Be Changed.

"The commission cannot change the rules," he said. "It was proposed and agreed to by both leagues and it is up to them. If there is a strike we shall end the series at this point and divide the money that was coming to the players equally among the club owners. And, we shall also take care of the players' share of the Red Sox contribution."

Mr. Herrmann's words only led to further argument, which was leading nowhere, when Harry Hooper, one of the most popular veterans of the game turned to his fellow players and reminded them of the crowd waiting outside. He put the situation up to them forcibly and in a few words and all hands agreed to call off the strike and go on with the game for the game's sake.

Win Puts New Life In Cubs.

Manager Mitchell of the Chicago National League club said tonight that victory in today's game had put new life into his men and they felt confident of winning. He did not announce his pitcher for the next game, but said, "I may have to use a right hander."

Chicago backers think Mitchell will send "Lefty" Tyler back if he shows he is ready when the pitchers warm up before the game.

Manager Barrow of the Boston American League club announced he would use Mays or Bush on the mound tomorrow. He is not worried about the final outcome of the series.

"The Cubs' win today merely prolongs the series," he said. "We expected to end it today but things broke too well for Chicago."

In the meantime the crowd was utterly at sea as to the cause of the deserted diamond. They filed steadily in until nearly 25,000 had been seated. In the fear that such a huge gathering would start a riot in the event of the announcement of a strike, police reserves were rushed to the park.

But the crowd took the long wait patiently. The band did its best to fill in with popular war numbers and patriotic airs. The arrival of detachments of wounded soldiers and sailors brought all hands up cheering lustily.

Finally, half an hour after game time, it was announced that the hostilities would begin in "about fifteen minutes." When the players, headed by the Cubs finally emerged on the field they were greeted with mingled cheers and boos.

They had a short work out and then Sam Jones, one of Boston's star right hand pitchers went into the box for his first appearance in a big series. The Cubs clawed him badly from the start. Flack the first man up drew a pass and Hollocher shot a single over second. Flack pulling up at the middle station. The situation grew worse when Mann sacrificed both runner along and with only one out, runninup prepared for a killing and third and second, Paskert came up prepared for a killing and sent a hard low liner to left field.

It looked like a sure safe hit and both runners started with the crack of the bat. But Whitman, running in fast, caught the ball below his knees and with a great throw doubled up Hollocher at second, retiring the side without a score.

Vaughn's start for his third game of the series was also inconspicuous. Hooper opened with a single and was sacrificed promptly to second by Shean. But Vaughn was entirely unperturbed. He struck out Strunk and Flack made a sensational catch of Whitman's long foul, crashing into the right field fence but holding onto the ball. Jones proved wild in the second inning but was saved by sharp fielding.

Cubs Score in Third

It was in the third that the Cubs drew blood, helped out by a bit of clever strategy. Scott disposed of both Vaughn and Flack on two of his cleverly executed plays. Then Jones gave Hollocher a pass. Hollocher strolled off first base and Agnew shot the ball down to McInnis. It looked like a sure out and was the same kind of sharp shooting that helped down the Cubs yesterday. But the Cubs were wary of the trap this time. Hollocher, instead of diving into Stuffy's big mitt dashed for second. Stuffy, with his eye on the ball swung around with admirable grace and quickness for a perfect putout—only there was no one to put out. He made one more swing thru the dust of his own raising and then saw Hollocher grinning at him from second base. Leslie Mann here succeeded to add to the general discomfort of the Sox by scoring his teammate with a double to left.

That ended further scoring until the eighth inning. Boston threatened in the fourth, fifth and seventh, but each time fast double plays stopped them before they could reach the enemy wire.

Strunk led off Boston's "lucky fourth" inning with a long double into right field. The fans implored Whitman to come thru with one of his timely hits, but the best he could do was to pop to Merkle. Stuffy McInnis made a big try for a clean up but Merkle caught his hard drive and doubled up Strunk at second. In the fifth the Sox started hitting the ball hard. Scott smashed one to left field but Mann caught it after a hard run. Then Thomas singled and the crowd was hopeful once more until Agnew ended the inning abruptly by hitting into a double play, Hollocher to Pick to Merkle.

The Cubs nearly clawed off another run in the sixth only a great throw by Whitman catching Hollocher at the plate turning them back for the time being. What chances the Red Sox had of a run in the seventh built on Whitman's line drive to left, were spoiled when McInnis once more hit into that deadly double play combination of Hollocher to Pick to Merkle.

Up to this point the game had been a pitchers' battle and a fielding revelation. Hippo Jim Vaughn was growing better with every ball he pitched and his shoots zipped across the plate with the impact of bullets. Whenever trouble threatened, even remotely, his teammates sprang to his rescue with some spectacular play. In the meantime Jones had lost much of his early wildness and a curve ball kept the Cubs swinging vainly. He was backed up superbly by the other redlegs and it looked as if it would be a 1 to 0 pitchers' duel until Dode Paskert broke up the game in the eighth.

Flack Opens Fatal Inning

A pass to Flack opened this fatal inning. Fleet-footed Hollocher laid down a slow roller along the third base line and beat the field to first, his third hit of the game. Mann flew out to Shean bringing up Paskert. The veteran picked a fast one waist high and smashed it to the score board for a double scoring two runs. Jones struck out Merkle. Pick then got a hit on which Paskert tried to score but the Red Sox infield trapped him between third and home.

Boston went into the last half of the ninth determined to end the series then and there. The faster Vaughn shot the ball across the plate the harder the Red Sox sluggers slammed it back, but they were up against an impenetrable defense. Miller, pinch hitting in place of Jones sent a long soaring drive to left field, a double under ordinary circumstances, but Mann, judging the ball perfectly ran far back, climbed up the embankment, slipped to a sitting posture as he reached the top of what is popularly known as "Duffy's" Cliff and caught the ball sitting down. The brilliant catch was loudly applauded by the fans.

Captain Hooper tried to start things going by poking a fly into short left field apparently beyond the reach of anyone but Hollocher, racing like the wind got it in his outstretched hands. Shean came thru with a hit, but Vaughn struck out Strunk, Amos swinging hard at the last one.

The Red Sox, however, were not a bit discouraged. They still lead Chicago 3 to 2 in the series and need but one more win to give them the championship while the Cubs must win two straight games to wear the laurel wreaths on their brows.

GOODS ROADS MEETING
TUESDAY EVENING

Was Held in Circuit Court Room—Attendance Small Owing to Others Events—Some Strong Addresses Made.

A meeting in the interest of good roads throughout Illinois and the United States of the Burlington Way in particular was held in the circuit court room Tuesday evening.

Owing to many other events, and the fact that most of the citizens of the county were greatly interested in the primary today the attendance was small. However, the audience made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. All of the speakers urged that work be done in the interest of the bond issue for state hard roads and to keep up the good work locally with dragging and other ways of road improvement.

H. K. Snyder, vice president of the Burlington Way for Morgan county called the meeting to order and explained the object of the meeting. Mr. Snyder touched upon the value of good roads not only to individuals but to communities and said they could only be obtained by concerted action.

Mr. Snyder called up Judge E. P. Brockhouse to preside. Judge Brockhouse briefly stated the object of the meeting and spoke heartily in favor of the bond issue.

Other speakers were City Attorney John J. Reeve, J. F. Claus, Thomas Worthington and C. N. Priest. All of the speakers are good roads enthusiasts and spoke in favor of the proposed bond issue and also of the necessity of having local interest. If good roads are to be secured and maintained.

Matters pertaining to the coming Burlington Way convention to be held in Rock Island September 27 were discussed. An interesting program has been prepared and includes addresses by Howard Jayne of Monmouth and Hon. A. D. Hassell of Milan, Tenn.

CORONER ROSE
HELD TWO INQUESTS

Inquests On Bodies of Alpheus Hawk and Mrs. Gertrude Ryman.

Coroner Rose held two inquests yesterday. One for Alpheus Hawk who died from injuries received when he fell from a railroad motor car near Greenville.

The other was on the body of Mrs. Gertrude Ryman, who died from injuries received in an automobile accident on the Alexander road Saturday evening.

The jury in the Hawk case met at the undertaking parlors of John G. Reynolds Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The evidence of Horace Webb who was with Hawk at the time he met with the accident that caused death was heard. The testimony of Webb was to the effect that he and Hawk were riding on the motor car doing signal work. Hawk suddenly got to his feet and then fell head first to the track.

Witness said that he got a farmer to come and assist him and sent him to the house to telephone for a doctor. Witness said he also came to Jacksonville with Hawk on a special train. So far as he knew witness said Hawk was in good health.

The testimony of Hawk's wife was also heard but did not throw any light on the subject. Said Hawk was 44 years old and had not been ill recently.

Miss Esther E. Bergeson testified that she was present when Dr. C. E. Black examined Hawk. She is surgical nurse at Passavant hospital. Gave Hawk a hypodermic to restore respiration. Said death resulted from recompression of the brain and complete fracture of the skull.

After hearing the evidence the jury which was composed of E. G. Saye, foreman; Clifford Alves, John M. Carroll, W. T. Dyer, W. W. Wharton and W. H. DeShara, clerk, returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Inquest for Mrs. Ryman

The inquest of Mrs. Gertrude Ryman was held at O'Donnell's undertaking parlors, 304 East State street at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The jury was composed of J. M. Swales, foreman; E. W. Hull, A. R. Endsley, F. H. Howard, W. F. Cunnell and W. W. Wharton, clerk.

The only witnesses heard were Joseph G. Ryman, husband of the deceased, and Mrs. Ethel Strawn. According to the testimony of Mr. Ryman he was driving east on the Morton road when Mrs. Strawn came up from behind and drew alongside his car. She and Mrs. Ryman were close personal friends and were visiting as they drove along.

Witness said they were going at the rate of about 25 or 30 miles an hour. He slowed down to about 20 miles an hour and crossed over in front of Mrs. Strawn's car to avoid a bad place in the road. In crossing over the gas throttle was jolted open and the car thrown into full speed. Witness said he threw the clutch out and put on the foot brake, with the effect that the brake locked and failed to release. The car was turned cross ways of the road with front wheels in rut, throwing the car around, upsetting same. Mrs. Strawn's testimony merely corroborated that of Mr. Ryman. The jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Ryman came to her death by an automobile accident.

MYERS BROTHERS

To Voters of Morgan and Sangamon Counties

DON'T BE MISLED BY LIES.

One of my opponents who was brought out by a combination between profiteers and draft evaders in spreading the false statement that William J. Butler is going to withdraw from the race for State Senator. This is absolutely untrue and these parties had full knowledge that it was untrue when they made it.

There is but one way to beat the double-crosser and that is to vote for a man who is on the square; a man's man who is not run by the short-haired sisters or the long-haired brothers, or owned by a profiteer who seeks to prevent an investigation of his exorbitant profits in selling supplies for and to the soldiers.

No one objects to honest opposition in politics. Personally I do not object to the opposition using all the tricks of the game. But everyone who has any manhood about him objects to lying, double-crossing, ingratitude and treachery from those you have befriended.

No one will bow more humbly before the best interests of the people of the 45th Senatorial District, but I pledge you I will not be a monkey on the string of any self-appointed clique or any treacherous, ungrateful, profiteering boss who needs protection in the senate for his anti-labor corporation graft bureau.

I have never double-crossed my friends nor will I imitate those who profess a religion (they have never practiced) for the sole purpose of cashing it for an election to office.

The average is one Judas to every twelve friends. And a betrayal is often mixed with praise. So when a man you know should be for W. J. Butler for Senator, praises him but says he's against him, mark him as a treacherous Judas.

I want to know the frauds among my friends. Send me his name.

Are you against a double-crosser? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against intolerance? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against a profiteering boss who robs the soldiers? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against the candidate brought out by the corporation lobbyist? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against the candidate brought out by the anti-labor lobby? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against treachery from a friend? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

Are you against a clique that claims to own your political opinions? Then vote for W. J. Butler.

W. J. Butler did not start this fight but he will not run, no matter how rough they make it.

He depends on you to stick — you may depend upon him to stay. And let no Judas talk you away.

I pledge myself to place the welfare of my country first in the consideration of every question without any mental reservation of any kind whatsoever.

PICNIC AT BLUFFS

Was Held East of Town—Rev. E. J. Rees Attending Conference

Bluffs, Sept. 9.—The ladies, who have been working with the Junior Red Cross girls the past summer gave a picnic in the grove east of town Saturday afternoon. There were 53 children and the 17 ladies who have assisted them in their sewing, present.

Each director and child contributed to the lunch which is the main feature of any picnic party. After the afternoon had been spent in games and in rambling over the hills each director and her assistants gathered their pupils around them in groups forming one large circle and spread their lunch upon the green. Each one present brought one spoonful of sugar which was used to sweeten their lemonade, thus giving them their favorite beverage without anyone having to use up their quota of sugar. Mrs. Frank Stanton took kodak views of the outing party.

The Juniors and their assistants have completed ten comforters which is mostly the children's work. They also have two quilts pieced by the ladies which have been sold at $2.00 each and one quilted quilt which makes a nice showing of what can be accomplished by children when organized under competent leaders.

Mrs. Everett Likes and children of Beverly spent Thursday until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Merriman and family.
